COULDN'T FIND HER.

Why "Kansas Mary" Failed to be Nominated for Mayor.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

KANSAS CITY, March 18.—Mrs. Mary E. Lease did not receive the nomination of the Democratic-Populist contingent for Mayor of Wichita today, for the simple reason the Citizens' Committee was unable to find her.

Later her husband stated that she was in Topeka and would arrive in Wichita tomorrow morning.

The delay has given the opposition a chance to puncture her boom, and now the A.P.A. leaders are fighting her to finish for the reason that she was born in Ireland.

Late tonight a message was received from Mrs. Lease, stating that she is undecided about the matter, but the consensus of opinion is that she will be the candidate.

THE MANUFACTURERS.

Preparations for Their Convention, Which Meets Today.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The manufacturers' convention will meet tomorrow afternoon to discuss the needs of the various manufacturers, a plan of action to secure the patronage of home industries and to prevent trade leaving California mills for the East.

All recognized branches of trade will be represented.

Owing to the illness of Gen. Dimond, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, Hugh Craig will deliver the address of welcome.

A. S. Halliday of the California Wire Works is slated to receive the chairmanship.

Rooms for the reception of delegates were opened at the Grand Hotel this morning.

A number of delegates from the interior of the State, Oregon and Washington, are already in the city.

SPRING VALLEY WATER.

Mayor Sutro Says it is not What San Francisco Wants.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Mayor Sutro believes the Spring Valley Waterworks company will attempt very soon to sell its water system to the city.

He has declared that it is impossible for any one to supply a large city with pure water from a supply gained in or about the city limits.

He has said that he will prove that all the sources of supply the Spring Valley corporation has are contaminated by human habitations near them.

Therefore, he is in favor of the city building a new system, the water of which must be secured from sources in some uninhabited district in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

THE Alabamas Waterspout.

GADSDEN (Ala.) March 18.—Further details of the waterspout on Coosa River, thirty miles north of here, show heavy damage.

Rivers and creeks adjacent were overflowed for forty miles, destroying crops and sweeping away many houses.

One report says that only three persons were drowned.

Jake Alverson and family; another says that six or seven lives were lost.

The rise in Coosa River, which threatened further destruction at Gadsden and points below has abated.

MUCH WEALTH

Gold to be Had for the Taking.

Plenty of Precious Stones Lying Loose.

New York Business Men Start a Committee for South America.

What a Mining Engineer Found in the Andes—A United States Naval Officer Interested—Stories of Utah.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

NEW YORK, March 18.—A committee of three, representing a dozen business men of this city, will within a few days leave here for South America to investigate reports of gold, precious stones and copper recently brought to their notice.

The investigating committee will be led by J. A. Corant, a wealthy contractor and engineer.

He will be accompanied by a United States naval officer and another engineer, on whose report the expedition was organized.

The committee intends to sail by the next Pacific Mail steamer for Colon.

If the investigation proves what the reports say, the investors expect to realize many millions each from the venture.

The reports tell of untold wealth. Gold in countless millions is to be had for the taking.

Diamonds, rubies, sapphires and emeralds are abundant.

It appears that Jose Rodriguez Zelaya, a mining engineer and a native of the United States of Colombia, but who was educated in England, determined a year ago to take a tour over the Andes in Peru, his object being to discover if possible, a promising gold field.

The engineer, after many hardships, reached an elevation of about seven thousand feet on the Atlantic slope of the Andes.

He found at the mouth of a stream, emptying probably into the Amazon, an Indian village where in a crude fashion the natives had washed out 1600 pounds of pure gold within a year.

This was in a locality, he says in his report, never before seen by a white man.

Near by he found a large area of alluvial gold deposits that yielded from 70 cents to $1 with every pan.

After carefully taking his bearings he returned and landed at the mouth of the Magdalena River in Colombia.

He became acquainted with an officer of a United States man-of-war stationed there, and told him what he had seen.

The officer secured a six months' furlough and the two came to this city.

Their visits resulted in the formation of the company. The officers and the engineer will accompany the expedition and will each receive a share of the profits.

Those interested in the enterprise will furnish all the capital necessary.

A FIND IN UTAH.

NEW YORK, March 18.—There arrived at the St. Denis Hotel last night a young man who, since Wednesday morning last, has been journeying toward this city at the possible rate of a piece of highly interesting news to the river.

Thomas Gordon, and he is a member of the Co-operative Community of Liberal Mormons which, for the past twenty-two years has been established at Bluff, San Juan county, Utah.

In 1887 young Gordon was sent, at the expense of the community, to the University of Pennsylvania to receive an education to fit him to become a teacher in the graded high school.

He took the full academic course, was graduated in 1891 and immediately returned to his home.

A week ago last Saturday, according to his story, he and two older pupils got into a discussion concerning the transporting power of moving water in relation to river-beds, and to settle the dispute he volunteered to take the class on Monday to the bank of the San Juan River and show them the stratification.

At 10 a.m., the pupils, by about twenty scholars, the schoolteacher went to the river. They wandered down stream about a mile in search of a place for the demonstration.

Several of the older boys had long-handled spades. A point was selected at a bend of the river near a high bluff of basaltic rock on the New Mexico side of the stream.

Not a half-dozen spadefuls of sand had been scooped up before a gold nugget the size of a pea was brought to light.

This was followed by the finding of many flakes of gold.

All thought of geological investigation was at once abandoned and the news that there was gold in the river was carried to the settlement by the excited pupils.

Among the members of the community were three old California miners, and they immediately took command of the operations in which the entire colony at once engaged.

Directly across the San Juan bluff is a reservation of the Navajo Indians, with whom the Mormons are on the best of terms.

It was decided to try both sides of the river and a small coffer-dam was constructed on the reservation side.

At noon on Monday and at the close of work Tuesday there was taken from the river, by the most primitive methods, a sum of gold in flakes and nuggets valued at $3300.

A meeting of the elders was held at once, and it was decided to dispatch the schoolteacher to New York with letters to influential friends here.

Gordon left Bluff last Wednesday and reached Durango, eighty-two miles distant, in time for the fast train Thursday for Denver.

He declines to discuss the details of his mission to the East.

SAYS IT'S A FAKE.

SALT LAKE (Utah) March 18.—Mr. Hammond, delegate to the Constitutional Convention from San Juan county, Utah, was shown the story telegraphed from New York about the rich gold find on San Juan River.

He characterizes the story as a monumental fake, and says that no such man as Gordon is known in his county.

SENT TO AN ASYLUM.

Sinister Motives Said to Exist in an Oakland Case.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

OAKLAND, March 18.—John H. Beach, a life-long friend of Judge Catlin of Sacramento, and brother-in-law of Arthur W. Zoo, the aged Oakland rich man, has been sent to the State Asylum for the Insane at Stockton, and some of Beach's friends say that sinister motives prompted those who secured his commitment.

About two years ago Arthur W. Zoo, who is 80 years of age, was declared incompetent by the Superior Court, and Beach, who lived with Zoo, was appointed guardian with bonds at $200,000.

Beach was unable to secure bonds until he obtained the assistance of his old friend, Judge Catlin, who was much interested in the welfare of Zoo.

One of Judge Catlin's daughters became Beach's housekeeper, and Beach did not get on well with her or her assistant. He told several friends that they were trying to have him committed to the asylum as they disagreed about expenditures. His insanity is doubted.

SHOT BY A CRANK.

Watchman Pierce Receives a Flesh Wound Under the Arm.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

SAN JOSE, March 18.—This afternoon James Pierce, a watchman on James V. Cokeman's ranch about ten miles from this city, was shot in the side, but was not seriously injured, by Joseph Dubois, a crank who occupied a cabin on the place.

Dubois has recently been acting strangely. He boarded up the windows of his cabin and barricaded the doors as if he feared an attack.

Pierce wanted to get some information from him about some gates that had been left open, and when Dubois refused to open the door, Pierce began tearing a board from a window.

Instantly there came a shot through the window from without, and Pierce received a flesh-wound under the left arm. He was brought to San Jose and found not to be seriously hurt.

The insane inmate of the cabin was captured by the Sheriff, but not until he had caved in a door and a window.

The prisoner made no resistance and was brought to the County Jail and locked up.

COTTON-GROWERS.

AN ORGANIZATION EFFECTED AT ATLANTA.

An Imperative Necessity for Reducing the Expenses of All Kinds.

A System of Barter is Recommended.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

ATLANTA (Ga.) March 18.—Delegates from a number of counties in the State met here today and organized the Georgia Cotton-growers' Association, with State Senator W. A. Broughton as president.

The following are the members: "To the Farmers of Georgia: Realizing the importance and necessity for concerted action of all engaged in the growing of cotton for mutual protection, we, the Cotton-growers' Protective Association, in conference assembled, do hereby appeal to you to join the growing cotton, but all interested in it for their active co-operation in an effort to better our condition."

"The imports into Georgia exceed her exports. Therefore there is an imperative necessity for reducing our expenses of all kinds from a ton of grain to a ball of potato. Spend nothing that can be done without our home products are superior to any. We would encourage the establishment of factories of all kinds as far as means their employees may become consumers of our products. The contraction of the currency may be relieved by a system of barter between the farmer and merchant. We appeal to you to aid in this effort."

"First, by the raising of supplies of every kind possible to be produced on the farm for the sustenance of man and beast."

"Second, by making the cotton crop a surplus crop, intensifying its culture on every acre."

"Third, by the use of home-made fertilizers and the use of less commercial fertilizers."

"In inviting your co-operation, we assure you there are no fees, dues or charges made for membership and no salaries officers, but each county is left to pursue its own plan of carrying out the plans of our organization."

FIGHTING FOR EZETA.

A Conspiracy that Resulted Sadly for the Conspirators.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Gen. Antonio Ezeta, who is safely housed in a comfortable hotel, announces that a rebellion in his interest has taken place in San Salvador.

The last steamer from the south brought a letter to Ezeta stating that on February 1 last President Gutierrez unearthed a conspiracy that had been hatched for the purpose of reinstating Ezeta as head of the government of San Salvador.

Gen. Gutierrez's order all the leading conspirators were shot. Among them were Col. Barrios and Salgado and Capt. Mangandi.

The chief of police was immediately arrested and the government caused the arrest of many suspects.

The letter also stated that men were in jail since the last uprising were ordered to be hanged, and Ezeta believes that by this time the order has been executed.

Col. Vazquez, a supposed leader of the plotters, was hanged by a mob of indignant citizens. The letter states that Ezeta has concluded that his followers chose an inopportune moment for their undertaking.

Heavy Travel of Maccabees to the Convention.

The Orange Crop is Moving Slowly Owing to a Glutted Eastern Market.

What Those Interchangeable Mileage Books Will Result in—The Great Northern Scheming to Get on Canadian Soil.

Today the Knights of the Maccabees scattered through the southern counties will turn their faces cityward for the purpose of attending the convention to be held today in Los Angeles. It has not been thought requisite to make any special arrangements for transportation of the members save in the case of Riverside. From that point a special coach has been reserved for the delegation, but from all other the ordinary accommodations will suffice for the scattering members.

Tomorrow the picnic at Long Beach promises to be largely attended. A special train has been arranged to leave the Arcade Depot at 10 o'clock, running direct to Long Beach, and returning from there at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A special return rate is being made of 50 cents, and this in itself insures quite a large attendance. To accommodate the Maccabees at and in the neighborhood of Santa Ana a special train will leave that point at 8:30 for Long Beach, and return at 4:30 p.m.

PASSENGER RATES RESTORED.

The second-class passenger rate over the Santa Fe has been restored yesterday to the regular figure of $2.50. It has been lowered since Passenger Traffic Manager White returned to Chicago that not only did the Santa Fe secure indisputable evidence that the Texas and Pacific and its Eastern connections were cutting the rate, but that so keen was the competition of these lines that they continued to get away with business for which almost no compensation over the Santa Fe had already been reserved.

TO FURNISH INFORMATION.

A corps of officials have been placed on duty at the central station in New York city by the New York Central for the purpose of furnishing information and otherwise helping passengers. Most of these men have been selected for their linguistic ability, most of them speaking at least one foreign language in addition to good United States. The system is a good one, and particularly so in a station where passengers are liable to become confused by a multiplicity of lines.

ORANGES MOVING SLOWLY.

Oranges are not moving East in such quantity just now as a week ago. It appears that for the present the Eastern market is glutted with imported fruit, and good Messinas can be landed and sold in New York for $1.50 per box, and still net a profit to the seller. The one item of freight alone on the California product amounts to 90 cents, and so for the present growers are holding back to permit the accumulation of a surplus. It is expected to arrive, and within a couple of weeks it is anticipated that the balance of the crop will be shipped East with all speed and to a good market.

TO FREEZE THE SCALPERS.

The ticket brokers in Los Angeles are jubilant at the anti-scalping bill having been vetoed by the Governor, and are now content to rest quiescent for a couple of years until the matter may be brought up again. The question of mileage books has been much agitated in the East, and General Passenger Agent Charlton of the Chicago and Alton, is quoted by the Indianapolis Journal as speaking very emphatically on the matter, and incidentally to a fight that may be impending against the brokers. He is quoted as saying:

"A day of settlement will come for these books, and some of the roads will see that they have made a mistake in allowing the weak lines to make their mileage books good over so many other roads, and permitting so many of them to get into the hands of scalpers. Some of the best systems find, when they call on the short lines for settlement, that their treasuries will be short by the amount of the mileage of this large distribution of mileage books is that it simply hastens the day when the strong lines, for self-protection, will make 2 cents a mile the rate on their respective systems, in that manner at one blow doing away with coupon tickets, excursion tickets at low rates and freezing out the scalpers. To this very point matters are now rapidly drifting."

ANOTHER GREAT FERRY.

The Great Northern is to enter Victoria, B. C., and various schemes are being considered to connect the mainland of the State of Washington with Vancouver Island. One proposition is to ferry the cars across to a point outside Victoria and there make the run into the city. While the scheme in its general plan has been fully determined upon, there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the route to be taken.

REPAIRING THE SOLANO.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—For the first time since she was launched, fifteen years ago, the largest ferryboat in the world will soon be high and dry on the ways at West Oakland. For several weeks preparations have been made to dock the mammoth vessel, and now nothing is required to accomplish the desired purpose but a favorable tide.

It was found necessary to dredge out a special channel about three hundred yards long, to have four feet of extra length manufactured; to build a new set of cables and to materially enlarge the ways on which all the passenger ferries are docked. The work was not available for any other purpose than the docking of the Solano, several thousand dollars have been expended in preliminary work on the craft, and the vessel is still half a mile from the ways.

Since being towed down from Port Costa all the engines and boilers have been taken from the huge hull in order that it may be as buoyant as possible. This has decreased the draught from six feet and several inches to five feet five and one-half inches, and it is nearly two feet deeper than any ferryboat that has ever been on the slip at West Oakland. To still further raise the hull, pontoons have been fastened on either side and raised, and have been shored up and raised with jackscrews a few inches in much the same manner as a house is raised.

As near as can be estimated the weight of the hull is about 400 tons. The Solano was fifteen years old last November and has been in constant service since she was launched. It was estimated that $75,000 will be expended on her before she leaves West Oakland.

SCRAP HEAP.

I. Stetler, Pacific passenger agent of the Northern Pacific, returned to San Francisco yesterday.

George E. Farrington, secretary and general agent at Terra Haute of the Valley line, arrived in the city yesterday for a short visit.

The passengers leaving San Francisco today for California are: Hattie Roberts, Charles Lamont, and three steers.

Superintendent Beamer, of the Southern California, has been good-by to his brother and sister-in-law on Sunday, and speeded them on their return to their home at Detroit, Mich.

PRACTICAL COOKERY.

A LECTURE ON THE CHEF ART OF HOUSEWIVES.

Mrs. Ewing Could Find Nothing That Was Good to Eat in Los Angeles—Coffee-making and Bread-making.

The Y.M.C.A. Hall was well filled yesterday afternoon on the occasion of Mrs. Emma P. Ewing's opening lecture on "The Art of Cookery." Poetry and prose were mingled in artistic fashion upon the stage, for a huge jardiniere of callus stood cheek by jowl with a trim table laden with the kitchen table, upon which stood a bowl of scientifically-prepared dough, and two or three delicious-looking, "crusty loaves with cunning twists," was decorated with the same stately blooms.

Mrs. Ewing opened her lecture by remarking that while there was a great deal to be learned from the study of the kitchen table, and about our agricultural, commercial, manufacturing and other interests, the most important of all, our kitchen interests, were practically ignored. "In the 5,000,000 kitchens in America, through which pass the most delicious, but to be manufactured into food, how much of that which is prepared is fit for food?"

"How much raw material is cooked so as to offer the best results?" she asked. The lecturer looked sternly through her glasses at the Los Angeles audience as she propounded these searching questions, and the Los Angeles shock in its small shoes and squirmed uncomfortably in its chair.

"How often do you get a cup of real coffee?" asked Mrs. Ewing, as she dispensed the name of coffee is simply execrable. Lord Beaconsfield once said that "a cup of good coffee does more for the world than the most valuable of the world," and since my stay in Los Angeles I have come to believe it. I have been wandering among the hotels and restaurants, and the lecture has been trying to find something fit to eat and drink, and have not succeeded yet."

Mrs. Ewing then went on to show the difference between the coffee that is sold when properly cooked, and the abominations usually presented under the same name to a long-suffering community. She went so far as to assure that under proper treatment, stewed prunes and dried apple pie could be made edible; but her audience looked politely dubious at this extreme statement.

The lecturer asked where our publications on the subject of household economy were? Other organizations had journals devoted to their interests, but the Los Angeles interest upon this important subject is something appalling.

Modern woman can do much of man's work well, she might as well admit it. From the field, but how many of our men make good bread upon scientific principles? She is up in political economy and yearns to legislate, but she knows nothing of the laws of roasting, baking and boiling, and is often busy as to whether fish ought to be fried skin side up or down, and whether it is better to put on the vegetables in hot or cold water.

We have the benefit of all the modern conveniences and appliances, and yet the difference between the coffee that is sold when properly cooked, and the abominations usually presented under the same name to a long-suffering community. She went so far as to assure that under proper treatment, stewed prunes and dried apple pie could be made edible; but her audience looked politely dubious at this extreme statement.

With all the perfected apparatus and labor-saving appliances of the present day the results are no better than those obtained by our grandmothers, and the open fireplaces and brick ovens. Modern woman has no time to study household science and the art of home-making. The quality of the food that is served here in Los Angeles, but the preparation of it is simply execrable.

The speaker then quoted the trenchant assertion of Prof. Youmans that "Our kitchens are the most important centers of ignorance, prejudice, irrational habit, mental vacuity and rule of thumb," and remarked that the moral, physical and intellectual well-being of mankind depended upon proper food.

The principles of cleanliness or deformity, health or disease, life or death, have their root in the kitchen. The whole of the art of the drink question lies next to the food question, and the appetite for stimulants is excited by bad food. The normal, healthy stomach has no morbid craving, but poor coffee creates a taste for larger beer, and bad bread excites a lively craving for sour mash whiskey.

The recruiting offices of crime are filled with stragglers from badly-provisioned homes, for without good food no good work or living is possible. Mrs. Ewing then gave a brief lesson upon the science of bread-making. She declared bread to be the most important article of food, as the perfect grain contains every element found in the human body. By the improvements in milling processes, the white flour of today is more nutritious than the Graham or whole wheat flour, as it contains a larger amount of the gluten or nutritious element, and less starch. The lecturer then picked up a handful of snowy dough from the bowl by her side, and proceeded to explain the most important point in the scientific preparation of it. The dough was made of the best flour, so rich in gluten that the speaker declared it out like a rope, or spread it into the thinnest of sheets at will. She placed the yeast in the most important place among the essentials of perfect dough, because by no other known process than perfect fermentation can the proper flavor be developed. The yeast is a natural germ, being the "bloom" on grapes and plums, and the best form of preparation is the pressed yeast.

The quantity must be exact to produce perfect fermentation within a given time, and the temperature exactly 75 degrees. Given the three things the result cannot be other than satisfactory. Mrs. Ewing announced as the subject of her first lesson, to be given this afternoon, the art of scientific bread-making according to the methods used in Vienna; and promised to have all the appliances in readiness for a practical demonstration of the lecture.

Sale of Horse Flesh.

Dr. K. D. Wise of this city has disposed of all of his trotting stock, consisting of about eighty head, to Jack Curry, the well-known Eastern horseman, who brought the famous Joe Patchen, 2:04, out here a few weeks ago, and the horses will be shipped East by their new owner in the near future. While the terms were private, it is generally understood that Dr. Wise, although anxious to sell, was not willing to make any very great sacrifices in order to do so, consequently it must be inferred that the price accepted was a fair one. Dr. Wise spent a large sum upon his ranch, Wiseburn, a few years ago, equipping it with all the modern improvements, and placing it upon equal footing with any of the larger establishments in this State, but whether this property is on the market or not is unknown.

Taken Suddenly Ill.

W. W. Everett, clerk of the Police Court, was taken suddenly ill while in the discharge of his duties yesterday morning. Becoming faint he fell to the floor and was removed to his home in East Los Angeles. In the afternoon he had recovered sufficiently to return to court, but Clerk Joseph Chambers took his place for the remainder of the day.

Discouraging Art.

C. G. Coleman and F. C. Van Auker, painters in the employ of Campbell, the bill-poster, were arrested yesterday for decorating, without a proper license, buildings, fences and bridges with advertisements of a drug store. They were released on depositing $20 cash each.

WANTED TO BE A BAD BOY.

A Fifteen-year-old Lad Shoots at a Companion.

Chris Metzger, the fifteen-year-old boy who got drunk on the 7th of March and fired several shots from a 25-caliber revolver at a young son of Dr. Townsend, was held by Justice Morrison yesterday in $1000 bail to answer to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Metzger is a hardened youth and will probably be sent to the Whittier reformatory.

On the sworn statement of young Metzger, John Beckwith, proprietor of the drug store at the corner of Spring and Temple streets was arrested for selling liquor to a minor. Beckwith alleges that Mr. Beckwith personally sold him the whiskey which intoxicated him the day he shot at Townsend. Mr. Beckwith, who has always borne the reputation of being a man of good standing in the business community, morally and socially, emphatically denies that he ever sold the boy, to his knowledge, or that he or any of his employees ever sold intoxicating liquors to anybody, except on a physician's prescription. Beckwith will appear before Justice Owens for hearing tomorrow.

Owing to the frequent complaints made about the violation of the law forbidding the sale of intoxicants to minors, the District Attorney has decided to begin a vigorous campaign against offenders of this class. In furtherance of this determination a complaint has been issued against the sale of liquor to a minor, and the law is being enforced. A complaint will be issued against the proprietors of the brewery. A number of similar complaints are being prepared against other alleged violators of the law.

E. J. Culbert, formerly partner of and successor to W. H. Beuhler, the imprisoned ex-member of the school board, in the drug business on San Fernando street, was arrested by Officer Conley yesterday on a warrant charging him with violating the liquor license ordinance. G. M. Bowles, who has been making a few dollars out of the sale of beer, was also arrested on a warrant charging him with violating the liquor license ordinance.

ANOTHER NEW PROCESS.

For the Treatment of Gold Ore by Chemical Action.

Several new plans have within a comparatively recent period been devised for the purpose of treating ore and extracting the gold in a perfect and economical manner, and generally these have been an elaboration of the cyanide process. A new method, presented recently, is the use of a solution of sodium cyanide in the treatment of the ore, is now being subjected to test in the mines in Southern Arizona, and yesterday H. W. Baker, who has spent some time down in that country, gave a brief description of the process.

He had read about the matter," said he, "in the Eastern press, and am interested in the results that may follow the present experimentation. The method was devised by H. J. Culbert, who I believe, is a chemist and metallurgist of experience. First of all a weak cyanide solution, such as is now used, receives the addition of a small amount of soda, the resultant compound is obtained slowly by the addition of oxygen. Being treated with zinc filings instead of zinc shavings as is now done, the process is greatly improved by this process satisfactory results are obtained in forty-eight hours that by the old method would require six weeks. By treating the slimes from the ore, which forms 35 per cent of the mass, with soap and lime it also can be treated for gold in a precisely similar manner to the other parts of the ore submitted to chemical action."

TRAMPERS GET WET.

Made a Pedestrian Trip to Arch Rock Sunday.

The Trampers' Annex of the Los Angeles Athletic Club took their regular tri-weekly outing in a trip to Arch Rock on Sunday. The party made an early train for Port Los Angeles, from which they walked about four miles north on the beach to Arch Rock. A visit was also made to the old Portuguese fisherman's camp, a half mile further on. A number of views of the picturesque scenery in the vicinity were obtained, after which the now hungry trappers began to make tracks for the house, repeating what they knew of awaiting them in Santa Monica, some six miles away.

A rainstorm was encountered before arriving at the destination, and the trappers' clothes received a thorough drenching. It failed to dampen their ardor in the least, and a most enjoyable time was had at the dinner table until it was time for the train to leave for this city. The members of the annex who participated in the outing are as follows: T. H. Bearing, F. Ryder, Abe Jacoby, I. Marchant, A. E. Wolaite, James Ryan, O. E. Smith, Ed Wolaite and Walter McStay.

The Whittier Reformatory School was selected as the objective point for the next outing.

HORTON WAS HOMESICK.

So He Paid a Fine that Hung Over Him.

Just before Justice Owens' court adjourned yesterday afternoon, Clerk Kinney had his breath taken away by being handed $150 in payment of a fine which he had been imposed on the court nearly three years ago upon a man who has been a fugitive from justice ever since that time.

In September, 1892, Gardine Horton and Frank Hays were arrested for stealing a load of hay. They were duly convicted of the crime and sentenced to pay a fine of $150 or be imprisoned in the County Jail for 150 days. Hays served his time, but Horton escaped from the jail, while the additional charge of embezzlement against him has not been brought to trial. He was recaptured and the embezzlement charge was allowed to drop, no regular information being filed against him.

Horton was taken into custody once for theft had been forgotten until yesterday, when an attorney, representing the fugitive, appeared in court and tendered the amount of the fine, thus equalling it safe for Horton to return to his former home.

Death of John C. Mahar.

John C. Mahar, ex-principal of the San Pedro school, and secretary of the Palos Verdes Parlor, N.S.W.W., of San Pedro, died Sunday evening at the Storer's Hotel. He resigned his position in the San Pedro school about two months ago on account of throat trouble, and went to Yuma. He grew rapidly worse and came back to Los Angeles, where he died. The funeral will take place today at Calvary Cemetery.

For Selling Liquor to Minors.

Yesterday evening D. J. Lewis, one of the proprietors of the Westminster saloon at Fourth and Main streets, was arrested on a warrant charging him with misdemeanor. The offense alleged is selling liquor to a minor, the complaint being sworn to by the father of a boy, who, it is claimed, was found in the saloon drunk. Lewis put up $100 cash bail for his appearance in court.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

The Woman Question Along Right Lines.

PASADENA, March 18.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Hurray for The Times and its artist! "Long may it wave." The cartoons yesterday were great. As usual The Times is right and its position is one that receives the indorsement of all who look far enough into the future to see what social conditions, the vagaries of the "advanced woman" are liable to result in.

She has demonstrated that she is man's equal spiritually and mentally, and I would give her every opportunity along those lines. She has, however, in the home the grandest and broadest of all "spheres" in which to exercise her influence, thought and action, and in putting that behind her she is "selling her birthright for a mess of pottage." Respectfully yours,

A LOVER OF TRUE WOMANHOOD.

Too Sure, by Half.

LOS ANGELES Cal., March 18, 1895.—(To the Editor of The Times.) As articles have appeared in your Sunday issues from the pen of Frances E. Willard, president of the World's and National W. C. T. U., will you please state that such articles were not written for Sunday papers, and have been so published without her authorization? Miss Willard has repeatedly declined advantageous offers to contribute to these papers, and would not knowingly do anything so inconsistent and so harmful to the society of which she is the president. Respectfully yours,

G. T. STICKNEY,

Corresponding Secretary W.C.T.U. of Southern California.

(Notwithstanding the above letter, which is printed in full, The Times is impelled to say that the matter in question was obtained from a press syndicate which furnishes it to leading newspapers of the country, and that they invariably publish it on Sunday. It is impossible that Miss Willard should be ignorant of the fact that her articles are published on Sunday in many of the leading newspapers of the United States.)

MORE BICYCLE THEFTS.

The New Kind of Robbery is on the Increase.

Two more bicycles are listed at the police station as property which has parted company with its owners. One is a March belonging to Burke Bros., the other is a Fowler belonging to the Fowler agency in this city. Both wheels were borrowed Sunday morning by a young man who registered as Gaston Henry, but gave a different address at each place. He was accompanied by another young man, and it is presumed they rode the wheels off together. They were to be returned Sunday evening, but they never came back.

The owners having become convinced Monday that the wheels were made way with, reported the matter to the police, who have as yet not succeeded in locating either the men or the wheels. The officers are inclined to the belief that an organized gang has been making a business of stealing bicycles of late, and that this last double theft is part of the general conspiracy.

A NEWSBOYS' BENEFIT.

Frederick Warde Will Give a Lecture on Shakespeare.

Frederick Warde, the tragedian, will give his popular lecture, "Shakespeare and His Plays," next Friday, March 22, in Music Hall, at 3 p.m. He donates the proceeds of this lecture to one of this city's worthy charities, the Working Boys' Home. W. H. Perry has given the use of the hall. It being Mr. Warde's special desire to have the lecture within the reach of all, the admission will be but 25 cents. Tickets can be procured at J. B. Brown's music store, Y.M.C.A. office and Mr. Threlkeld's office, No. 264 South Broadway.

Unknown Man Hurt.

An unknown man who fell in a fit at the Santa Fe depot Monday morning, badly injuring his head, was brought to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. It was unconscious all day yesterday, and it was impossible to ascertain his identity.

LA FIESTA.

GETTING THE GREAT MUSICAL PROGRAMME IN SHAPE.

Some Surprises Promised from the Outlying Districts—Tinsel and Foil Arriving from the East.

The concert to be given during Fiesta week are attracting a great deal of attention, and the Music Committee is more than ever convinced by the developments of the past few weeks that they are going to be even more enjoyable and notable as musical events than they had anticipated.

Word was received Saturday from Santa Ana that a branch chorus is being organized there by Prof. Ludwig Thomas. It is not yet known how many singers Santa Ana will send to the big chorus. The music to be sung at the concerts has been forwarded to them, and rehearsals will begin at once.

The news from other cities in Southern California is to the effect that rehearsing is going forward with energy and success.

The orchestra for the occasion, which will be a very large one, has been reinforced by Chairman Wilbur by the addition of several noted musicians whom he secured last week in San Francisco.

Among them are John Marquardt, violinist, who has played with Theodore Thomas, the first orchestra rehearsal will take place Thursday of this week.

C. E. Day, choral director, and Dr. Kurtz of the Music Committee, went yesterday to visit O. Stewart Taylor to consult with him regarding the choruses from surrounding cities.

The uniform rank Knights of Pythias of Riverside, one of the most solidly bodied of men in the State Orchestra in Vienna, and royal grand opera, noted as a violinist, and Tobin, a delightful trombone soloist. In addition to these there are several other performers on French horns, bassoons and oboes.

It is expected that Miss Kate Fleming will arrive from Philadelphia next week. The first orchestra rehearsal will take place Thursday of this week.

In speaking of the floats for the Pageant of the Pacific, Mr. Robinson said yesterday that they will not be at all conventional. They will be invested with certain unusual effects, both reposeful and spectacular, which are very seldom witnessed in such pageants.

The subject of the pageant is such that it admits of broad scenic treatment. It differs from all celebrations with which Mr. Robinson has been connected, in what may be characterized as its simple grandeur. There is a feeling of antiquity about the events portrayed very difficult to catch, but wonderfully interesting from an artistic standpoint.

The assignment of float papers, fringes and other decorative materials for the floats arrived yesterday from New York. Such materials as will be used in the float decorations are seldom used even in the pageants at New Orleans.

The painting in so many celebrations of this nature is not scenic, as it should be, to produce the proper effects, but in the floats the treatment will be purely scenic, and in accordance with the ideas of the most advanced American and European scenic artists.

The costumes for the characters who will appear upon the floats in the pageant will be of the most sumptuous nature and historical accuracy. The gorgeous coloring in the costumes of Indian and Mexican floats will be relieved by the pure white robes of the priestesses and angels on the modern floats.

The armor for the costumes is being especially made in New York, and will give a most dazzling effect to the parade. It will be new and of burnished silver, with gold edgings, and the swords and spears and other accessories will be strictly accurate and effective.

An Incipient Blaze. Sergt. Smith of the police force discovered a blaze in the rear part of the Crystal Palace store Monday morning. He extinguished the flames with water from a neighboring hydrant and prevented a costly conflagration. The fire was caused by a naked electric wire coming in contact with a wooden wall.

A GRAND SUCCESS. Crowded to the Doors All Day Yesterday at the Unique.

Our grand removal sale is a gigantic success. We are about to move into our new store, No. 247 South Spring street, and rather than move our entire stock we have marked goods down to such prices that must sell.
